REPORT REGARDING COMPLIANCE WITH INJUNCTION

1. My name is Rudy Pedraza. I am the CEO of Psystar Corporation. I was personally responsible for the steps that Psystar has taken to comply with this Court's injunction.
2. Psystar had already stopped selling computers with Mac OS X preinstalled when the Court's order came down. The only product that Psystar was selling when the Court's order came down was Rebel EFI.
3. Psystar ceased selling Rebel EFI two days after the Court's order came down. Since then, Psystar has not sold or offered for sale any products that include Mac OS X, that facilitate running Mac OS X on non-Apple hardware, or that otherwise come within the terms of the injunction.
4. Psystar posted on its web site a statement expressing its disagreement with this Court's summary judgment order and stating its intention to appeal that order to the Ninth Circuit and to continue the fight in Miami. Psystar respects that this Court has made its decision and has no intention of defying that decision, but intends to appeal it through all available legal channels.
5. Pursuant to an agreement between counsel for both parties memorialized in an email, counsel for Psystar is retaining one copy of Rebel EFI (and prior versions of Rebel EFI) and all software used in connection with running OS X on non-Apple computers for use in subsequent litigation. This includes the invited declaratory judgment proceeding in this Court and the ongoing litigation in Miami. Counsel for Apple has specifically stated that Apple does not wish this Court's injunction to be construed to require the destruction of evidence that is relevant to the ongoing litigation between Apple and Psystar.
6. Psystar and its principals have destroyed all their copies of Rebel EFI. The only copy of the Rebel EFI source code that now exists is in the hands of counsel for Psystar pursuant to the agreement between the parties.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge and ability.

Executed on December 31, 2009, at Miami, Florida.
